The Flavel has made progress following a difficult two years. Our Cafe has now re-opened, and the staff and trustees have ambitious goals and your assistance would be invaluable. If you have experience in any of the areas of sales and marketing, publicity, venue management, fund raising, grant applications or accounting we would love to hear from you. Or maybe you have an interest in the technical side of event management or would simply like to volunteer to help us.

There is no set amount of time you need to give us so even if you have a couple of hours a week it would still be helpful and full training will be given where necessary.

We are also always on the lookout for volunteers for our day to day running of The Flavel. This could be stewarding our film and live events, running our box office, managing the bar for evening shows, or helping in our newly opened Cafe. If you can help us and are interested in taking a volunteer role, then please email in the first instance to volunteering@theflavel.org.uk
 Thank you.

ANTHONY HYSON
PAINTINGS OLD AND NEW: A RETROSPECTIVE
25 April - 14 May

'Not having to earn my living as an artist means my work does not fall into any set category or theme. Wherever I am I make sketches and take photographs as an information gathering exercise. Image making is a human activity NOT a technique, it is a form of communication and only more recently a form of decoration. As an engineer, design is high on my list of priorities and composition, along with tone, come before colour. Retrospective exhibitions not only permit sales of the artist's work but enable him/her to review the outcome of many years of enjoyable endeavour.'

JILL MOTTRAM: THE SEAWEED STUDIO
16 - 28 May

'Inspired by the natural beauty of seaweed, I collect washed up seaweed from the Devon coastline and hand press them into art, using recycled materials and compostable packaging, all made in the UK. These striking prints are unique in their colour, form and beach they were foraged on. They are perfect for any coastal location, providing a fresh, modern look and a pop of colour. I am committed to reducing my own environmental impact, but also in supporting organisations removing costal plastic pollution and developing marine conservation.'
