OUR STORY:

The Lexi is a brilliant independent cinema and a great venue for a night out. We also have a longstanding programme of community programmes, such as our women-only refugee film club, and our free “warm n cosy” screenings for families struggling with heating bills - and a whole raft of accessible screenings for hard of hearing and neurodiverse audiences.

Our front of house is staffed by volunteers from all walks of life. We're a Social Enterprise, giving 100% of our distributable profits to the Sustainability Institute, in South Africa.

We are a multi-award winning cinema, with recognition from Brent Council - with two wins at this year's Brent Design Awards - RIBA, the Civic Trust and the Red Dot Awards for our beautiful, sustainable building, and from the NatWest SE 100 and the Mayor of London for our entrepreneurial drive and community spirit. We have also been a BFI LodeStar, for our ground breaking film programme.

Recent press highlights include The Modern House ('an icon of the Kensal rise landscape'), and a feature in design bible Wallpaper* magazine.

WHY CHOOSE THE LEXI?

By choosing a corporate membership with The Lexi Cinema, you're choosing to support an independent social enterprise cinema. You and your team will be members of a business dedicated to doing good.

You'll be able to reward your employees with regular trips to the cinema, where they can catch everything from the latest blockbusters to fascinating documentaries and carefully curated independent cinema. You'll get a fantastic discounted rate for hires - so you can wow your clients and host memorable away days for less. The Lexi Cinema is an award-winning events venue, boasting beautiful artwork from Eden project artist Bruce Munro, award-winning interior design work, and state of the art audio visual equipment, so it's a venue that's always in high demand.

From our excellent film programme, to our wildflower roof, and community ethos, we are capturing imaginations and changing lives. We're looking forward to welcoming you and your team into our magical cinema!
